RE: 2017-2018 FLEX /STAFF DEVELOPMENT

FLEX GUIDELINES

We hope that our offerings are such that they will benefit teaching and learning and, hence, will be ones you would benefit from attending.

I. WHAT IS FLEX?

Flex is defined in Title 5, Article 2. "Subject to the approval of the Chancellor... a community college district may designate an amount of time in each fiscal year for employees to conduct staff, student, and instructional improvement activities." The time designated for these activities shall be known as "flexible time."

II. INSTITUTIONAL/INDIVIDUAL FLEX

A. Institutional Flex Activities

All full-time faculty must participate in three (3) institutional flex days. This includes two days August prior to the start of the semester, and an additional day prior to the beginning of the Spring semester. The remaining two (2) flex days may be done on-campus by attending one of the workshops and activities planned by the Flex Committee. Off-campus activities may be counted as flex, pending approval by the Flex Committee. Prior to the fall and spring semesters faculty will be notified of the institutional flex days and activities planned for the week prior to the beginning of the semester.

B. Individual Flex Activities

Individual flex activities may include (not an inclusive list):

- ⇒ Training workshops (planning, presenting and/or attending)
- ⇒ Conferences, workshops and meetings pertaining to improvement of instruction or profession
- ⇒ Course work in own or related field (1 semester unit = 15 hours of flex credit)
- ⇒ Research pertaining to the institution or the profession
- ⇒ Grant writing

- ⇒ Mentoring
- ⇒ Matriculation projects
- ⇒ Retraining
- ⇒ Articulation with feeder schools and transfer institutions
- ⇒ Departmental and division meetings for staff improvement purposes (these cannot be "nuts & bolts" activities)
- ⇒ Departmental or interdisciplinary curriculum development
- ⇒ Development of special delivery systems
- ⇒ Provide and/or develop orientation for new faculty and hourly faculty
- ⇒ Special projects designed to improve instruction
- ⇒ Visitations to other campuses
- ⇒ Other (within the scope of the law and the philosophy of the College)

III. FLEX OBLIGATION

A. Number of Days Required

Each faculty member on a full-time contract is responsible for 5 days of flex activities. Full-time faculty members with less than a 100% teaching contract are responsible for a proportionate number of flex days. Faculty members on a one-semester sabbatical are required to complete 50% of the flex obligation (3 days) and no flex is required for faculty members on a full year sabbatical. One flex day is defined as a minimum of 3.0 hours. Full-time faculty who are on sabbatical are not eligible to receive funds for any activities relating to the sabbatical. However, annual conferences that occur during the time of the sabbatical will be eligible for the regular funding amounts.

The five (5) flex days are, in fact, legally part of the 175-day contract for faculty, and failure to complete the required days must by law necessitate the docking of pay for the incomplete days. Since STRS contributions are based on a complete contract year, any deduction from the 175-day requirement will negatively affect your STRS contribution for that academic year.

Since activities undertaken to facilitate Column Movement benefit faculty directly through salary increase, the activities may not be claimed for flex credit or funding.

B. Accounting Procedure

1. For a flex activity undertaken on a regular school day.

Since a regular school day is part of the 175-day obligation, you will not receive a flex day.

2. For a flex activity undertaken on a non-school day.

(Example) 3 to 8-Hour Flex Activity:

You would receive 1 day of flex credit. Remember—many Saturdays are now instructional days and cannot also be a flex day. Consult the academic calendar and choose days that are NOT colored fuchsia or yellow.

C. Calculating Hours

1. Activities completed on Saturdays that are not already designated as an instruction day and any Sundays are appropriate any time during the year.
2. Any activity for which faculty members are compensated above regular salary will not qualify for flex credit.
Example: A faculty member who is paid a stipend to develop a distance education course would not receive flex credit for developing the course.

D. Additional Information

1. Primary Assignment

A number of full-time faculty teach in several areas and, hence, might wish to use individual flex proposals to enhance their background in those areas. The flex committee wishes to be supportive of this diversity; however, in order to achieve a healthy balance, no more than 1 day may be used in flex activities not in one's primary assignment area with the exception of activities that relate directly to teaching methodology, teaching techniques, etc. (i.e., Classroom Based Research, Diverse Student Learning Styles, etc.). Full-time faculty requesting funds for activities relating to courses taught outside of their primary area of instruction will be able to apply for $200 in flex funding. No flex funding will be awarded to part-time faculty since flex hours are no longer required.

2. Credit for Preparation of Flex Activities

Full-time faculty will be eligible for 1 day of flex credit if their prep time is between 3-8 hours.

3. Column Movement and Flex Credit

Activities used for column movement cannot also be used for flex credit.

4. Sabbatical Leaves and Flex Obligations

You are required to complete 50% of the required days when you are on a one-semester sabbatical (3 days). No flex is required when faculty members take a full year sabbatical. Full-time faculty who are on sabbatical are NOT eligible to receive funds for any activities relating to the sabbatical. However, annual conferences that occur during the time of the sabbatical will be eligible for the regular funding amounts.

5. Partnership Program

The purpose of this program is to increase communication between part-time and full-time staff, to provide assistance to those instructors who are new or might be having a specific problem, and/or to review the course content and standards in order to increase consistency within a discipline. The maximum flex time allowed is 3 hours per semester (these hours must be completed in 1 day). If the Partnership Program is used in more than one semester, the project must be substantially different each time, and the documentation/evaluation must clearly demonstrate the differences.

6. Video/Audio Tape Limits/Books and Book Groups

The maximum number of days that can be accrued for watching videotapes, listening to audio tapes, or reading a book and/or participating in a Book Group directly related to the primary assignment is 1 day (3 hours).

Note: Proposal forms are not necessary for any videos or books on the list of books and videos pre-approved for flex credit. They are necessary for any video not on this list. Analysis/ Documentation forms must be submitted for all videos viewed for flex credit.

7. Research vs. class preparation

Updating of skills and information for the purpose of teaching is a flex activity. This would include, for example, the viewing of videos and reviewing other materials to evaluate their use in the classroom. But, once material has been selected, the development of that material into lesson plans and supplemental offerings is considered class preparation and does not qualify for flex credit.

IV. FLEX COMMITTEE

- A. The Flex Committee is an ad hoc committee of the Academic Senate and is composed of five faculty members from various disciplines (appointed by the Academic Senate), and the Vice President of Instruction. The committee generally meets monthly.
- B. All flex proposals and analysis/documentation forms are due by the first Friday of the month and go before the Flex Committee for approval, according to the procedures listed below.

V. FUNDING

Based upon funding, in the 2017-18 school year, $200 will be available to fund individual flex proposals for each full-time faculty member. Part-time faculty are no longer required to complete flex hours and are not eligible for flex funding. The Flex Committee will notify faculty during the latter part of the spring semester if additional funds are available. There is not funding available to fund each full-time instructor, so flex funds are available on a first come, first served basis. If any flex money is still available in April, full-time faculty members can submit a second request for additional flex funding.

VI. FORMS AND PROCEDURES

RSVP Forms for institutional activities must be returned to the Instruction Office by the date indicated on the form. Indicate, by checking the appropriate box, those activities you will be attending.
