Learn How to Knit, Crochet and Embroider

Weed / COS – This fall, COS will offer multi-media embroidery, knitting and crocheting classes in Mt. Shasta at Weston’s Quilting and Crafts Shop located at 414 Chestnut Street. Adamine Harms will teach the knitting classes and Mickey Weston will teach crochet and embroidery. Space is limited.

Harms instructs students on knitting using a gentle, patient approach. The COS knitting classes have been designed for beginners, as well as experienced knitters. Beginners will learn to cast on, the knit stitch, how to purl, and bind off. Typical projects for beginners are scarves, hats, washcloths, and bags. Experienced knitters are offered optional class projects, and are also encouraged to do projects of their own choosing. Five weekly knitting classes will be held this fall.

Weston will instruct students in crocheting and multi-media embroidery. Learn how to crochet or expand your skills in the Crochet class. From trendy to traditional, this course offers you the freedom to learn your craft. Multi-Media Embroidery offers students the opportunity to unleash their creativity. From landscapes done with dyes, ribbon, and beadwork, and much more, students will learn new skills and have great fun at the same time. Watch for display locations this fall for the “Bra Project” that was completed during the summer class to raise money for cancer research.
