COS Music Department Announces Band and Orchestra Concerts This Weekend

Weed / COS - The College of the Siskiyous (COS) vocal and instrumental department will be presenting two concerts this weekend. With busy schedules, it's easy to say, "Why should I attend?" First, there's excellent music with selections that appeal to many tastes. Second, these performances provide important performance experience, especially for students who wish to go on to four-year colleges. Finally it's great local entertainment at a reasonable price. Proceeds are used to augment activities of the performance groups. Another is providing instrumental support for major choral works. The remainder of the proceeds goes for scholarships for music students.

A performance by the Concert Band will lead the season beginning Thursday, December 1 at 7 p.m. in the COS Theater. A second performance will be held on Friday, December 2 in Yreka at the United Methodist Church (502 N. Fairchild, Yreka) beginning at 7 p.m. Members of the band include citizens from all areas of Siskiyou County and is led by COS Band Instructor, Sean Abel.

The College of the Siskiyous Orchestra, under the baton of conductor, Lloyd Elliott, will hold their annual Fall Concert on Sunday, December 4, at 3 p.m., in the Kenneth W. Ford Theater at the Weed Campus and on Monday, December 5, at 7 p.m. in Yreka at the Yreka Seventh Day Adventist Church (346 Payne Lane, Yreka). Tickets may be purchased at the door.

For more information about the concerts, contact the Weed Camus Office of Institutional Advancement by calling (530) 938-5373.
