

ENGLISH

The English program at College of the Siskiyous provides training in analytical, communicative, and writing skills necessary for a number of professions. English majors have a good background for careers in teaching, journalism, technical writing, free-lance writing, telecommunications, editing, magazine or book publishing, book marketing and distribution, advertising, law, and business/corporate communication. The English major prepares students for careers requiring strong communication skills, organizational abilities, and critical thinking skills. The English curriculum also academically prepares the student to transfer to a 4-year university to complete a Baccalaureate degree in a related discipline. Students who wish to transfer may want to consult a counselor to help them determine the best course of action for their goals.
