

COS Residence Halls Renovated & Remodeled

Built in the 1960's, the COS Residence Halls have remained very much the same over the past 45 years. Small changes were made over the years, such as new furnishings, paint, and upgrading of the wiring system. However, none of these renovations were even close to what occurred over the summer of 2006.

In November 2005, Siskiyou County residents voted to pass the Measure A Bond in support of the College. The passage of Measure A gave the College approximately $31.4 million for construction funds to remodel existing facilities, upgrade technology, and build several new buildings. Immediately following the election, campus discussions were held to determine how best to remodel the two on-campus residence halls to meet the demands of current and future students.

The first major Measure A project, the renovation and remodeling of the two on-campus residence halls began in May as soon as classes ended. Throughout the summer, major work was done in both residence halls. A complete "gutting" and renovation to the bathrooms was completed, and the look of the common areas was changed and modernized. New flooring, windows, cooling and heating systems, and furnishings have also been added with the intent to make these buildings more suitable for studying and provide a comfortable living environment for the students. Security cameras, high speed internet access, cable television access and card access door locks were also added for security and convenience.

The renovations and remodeling was officially completed in October 2006. Students who are living in the residence halls (new and current) have expressed their delight in the changes that have been made.
