- Racelighting Resources: Racelighting is an act of psychological manipulation where people of color receive racial messages that distort their realities and lead them to second-guess themselves. There are two types of racelighting, active and passive. The Center for Organizational Responsibility and Advancement (CORA) learning Center offers a FREE Certificate of Completion in Racelighting. Instructors are Dr. Luke Wood and Dr. Frank Harris. To learn more and to enroll, go to: <https://coralearning.org/product/racelighting>. Additionally, <https://racelighting.net/> offers a variety of resources including videos and lesson plans.
